

I am a flight Attendant for American Airlines. I am only too familiar with the potential problems that would arise from allowing cell phone use on board the aircraft during flight. number one--I am very concerned that it would be a means by which terrorists could communicate with each other verbally as well as take pictures of our procedures--locations of emergency equipment [that they could disable or use as a possible bomb location]etc. Also--the use of profane language in public--having others be a captive audience to personal information--this would be TOO MUCH!! In the last 6 months, I have had to tell two male passengers to turn off their DVD player because they were watching sexually too explicit movies!! What a NIGHTMARE this would be!!
